

TiDev, Inc. Contributor Agreement

Thank you for your interest in the TiDev, Inc collection of open source software projects (“Project”). As with most open source projects, legal issues regarding intellectual property rights require us to protect ourselves, our contributors and our users from any future ownership claims to the software, documentation or other materials contributed to this Project. Although it is unlikely that this will occur, should such a scenario arise, it has the potential to create confusion as to our users’ rights to continue to use the TiDev, Inc software and will delay future development of updates and new products. As a result, TiDev, Inc must have a Contributor License Agreement (“CLA”) on file that has been signed by each Contributor prior to accepting a Contributor’s code, in order to establish the intellectual property rights in the Project. This Agreement indicates that you have the right to contribute the code to the Project, that you transfer all ownership interest in the code to TiDev, Inc and that TiDev, Inc will give you a license back to use and distribute the code as though you still owned the code.

This CLA is applicable to all products and projects owned or managed by TiDev, Inc. Signing it once means you can contribute code to any TiDev, Inc sponsored open source projects. Please read the CLA carefully before signing and retain a copy for your records. To execute the CLA, please fill out the digital form below and apply your electronic signature. The United States Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (“E-Signature Act”) became effective on October 1, 2000. By applying your e-signature to this document and returning it to TiDev, Inc, you agree that this CLA is bound by U.S. and the State of Alabama law.

Upon receipt of an executed CLA, TiDev, Inc will provide you with any necessary credentials for submitting patches and/or procedures, as applicable. You agree that you will not disclose this information to anyone.

If you are employed as a software engineer, or if your employer is in the business of developing software, or otherwise may claim rights in any contributions made to the Project, please provide information about your employer’s policy on contributing to open source projects, including the name of the supervisor to contact in connection with such contributions.

You agree to notify TiDev, Inc in writing of any facts or circumstances of which You become aware that would make Your representations and warranties in this CLA inaccurate in any respect. You understand that the decision to include the Contribution in the Project is entirely that of TiDev, Inc and this CLA does not guarantee that the Contributions will be included in the Project.

7. 8. This is the entire agreement between You and TiDev, Inc which supersedes any prior agreement, whether written or oral, relating to the subject matter of this agreement and may be amended only by a writing signed by both parties.
